Prospective authors are urged to look through past issues of the Journal, where they will see that the breadth of Pennsylvania History articles include: social, intellectual, economic, environmental, political, and cultural history, from the distant and recent past. Pennsylvania History publishes documents previously unpublished and of interest to students of the Middle Atlantic region. The journal also reviews books dealing primarily with Pennsylvania history or that shed significant light on aspects of the state's past.

Manuscripts must be submitted in triplicate and should conform to the Chicago Manual of Style. Notes should be double-spaced and placed at the end of the manuscript. Manuscripts should be submitted on disks when the article has been accepted for publication.
