Ludwig Voigt had been the recular preacher from Some-time before Zion and St. Peters been erected untill his decease Muehlenberg the first of all, St. Peters as had been built of logs and not So dureable and too small as the members increased They rebuilt one of Stone jointly with the Reformed protestand with an organ in ; In the year 1808 and in the year 1835 one knight was set afire and burned down. It then stood in the grave yard it was immediately rebuilt outside and below the graveyard. After the decease of Ludwig Voigt Rev. Rebenack made but a short stay and was discharged on account of his lady in 1805 did not get to live on the parsonage that was rented on account as the Pikland Congregation had taken Henry Gaisenhimer of whom the Vincent Congregation had a dislike. A short time after the Rev. Frederick Isinsky became the acceptable and beloved and united preacher at both churches Zion and St. Peter until his decease, had beforehand requested that if he should die here that they should bury him at St. Peter's. Now he rests there he possessed the parsonage during life and in his time a new stone house and barn erected by the congregations on the parsonage he always performed his duty as a preacher in great earnest, in his last sermon he observed some as I thought not quite attentive he made a clap with the balm of his hand requesting them to listen for as he said, it was likely the last time he was speaking to his hearers and in fact it was he was confined but a short time and after his decease the Rev. Frederick Gaisenhimer became the regular preacher of the two congregations until the senior was called to New York and the junior remained until he was called there likewise. Then the Rev. Jacob Wampole became the regular preacher and possessed like his predecessors the parsonage until his health became impaired, had other churches to attend to and his constitution weakly caused him to leave these 2 congregations. In the time of the Gaisenhimer's English preaching in the afternoon in both churches was admitted and continued. So after Wampole left in the Spring of 1836 the Rev. Frederick Ruthrauff became the ordinary preacher of both congregations and had possession of the parsonage but in the year 1842 a disagreeableness in the Vincent Vestry or Consistory and was forbidden to preach in Zion and was ordered to leave the parsonage he accordingly did so moved into the neighborhood of Lyonville retained St. Peter's and Lyon-
