Contributors

CHARLES COLEMAN SELLERS, Curator of the manuscripts collection at Dickinson College where he also teaches in the Art Department, is the recognized authority on Charles Willson Peale. He is the author of a biography of Peale and of a catalogue of his portraits. An article on Rembrandt Peale by Mr. Sellers was published in the MAGAZINE in July, 1955.

EDWIN WOLF 2ND, noted bibliographer, is Curator of the Library Company of Philadelphia. His article on the first books and printed catalogues of the Library Company appeared in the MAGAZINE in January, 1954. Mr. Wolf's history of the Jews in Philadelphia will be published this year.

PENROSE R. HOOPES, consulting mechanical engineer, is the author of a history of early Connecticut clockmaking and of a number of articles on eighteenth-century craftsmanship. He is the Chairman of the Library Committee of the Franklin Institute.

JOHN B. SHIPLEY, a graduate of Columbia University, is an Instructor in the English Department at the University of Colorado. His article on Franklin's purchases from James Ralph's library developed from his research for a critical biography of Ralph.

JAMES M. MULCAHY is a Museum Specialist with the National Park Service at Independence National Historical Park, Philadelphia. He has been responsible in whole or in part for establishing Park Service museums at Manassas, Chickamauga, and Chattanooga parks, and at the Cape Hatteras National Seashore Recreation Area. At present he is gathering information for biographical sketches of Robert Edge Pine and Edward Savage.

J. BENNETT NOLAN, a lawyer of Reading, Pennsylvania, has long had an active interest in American history of the eighteenth century. He has written extensively on the history of Reading and Berks County, is the author of two books on Franklin, and has contributed several articles to the MAGAZINE.
