MALCOLM C. CLARK, Assistant Professor of History at the College of Charleston, is a candidate for the degree of Doctor of Philosophy at Georgetown University.

JOAN YOUNGER DICKINSON is a Research Associate of the Sociology Department of the University of Pennsylvania. Her research, arising out of a study project headed by Professor Edward P. Hutchinson, on the Italian-American community in Philadelphia was supported in part by funds supplied by the American-Italy Society and the American Philosophical Society.

PROFESSOR D. G. BRINTON THOMPSON of Trinity College contributed an earlier section of Dr. Daniel G. Brinton's Diary, which was published in the July, 1965, issue of this Magazine.

GARY B. NASH, now Assistant Professor of History at the University of California, Los Angeles, completes in this issue the series of Markham-Holme Letters, Part I of which was printed in our preceding number.

FREDERICK B. TOLLES, a member of the Historical Society of Pennsylvania's Publications Committee, is Director of the Friends Historical Library of Swarthmore College.

MRS. JAMES W. MORRISON of New London, Conn., is the great-granddaughter of Abraham Shoemaker, whose reminiscences of the Revolution she has edited.
