Pennsylvania Historical Association Annual Meeting, October 19–21, 2006 Philadelphia, PA

Call for Paper and Panel Proposals

The Pennsylvania Historical Association invites proposals for individual papers, complete panels, roundtable discussions, and special sessions to be given at its 75th annual meeting in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, October 19–21, 2006. This meeting is open to all scholars, researchers, educators, public historians, and professionals who share an interest in the history of Pennsylvania and the mid-Atlantic region from the founding years to the present. The PHA welcomes proposals on a wide range of themes and from numerous disciplines, including but not limited to history, material culture, educational strategies and theories, historic preservation, and museum studies. There is no overarching topic that will define this next conference, but given the focus of public and academic attention on the tercentenary of Benjamin Franklin's birth throughout the year, sessions relating to this topic are particularly welcome. Those whose proposals are accepted for the program must be members of the PHA. Please submit 5 copies of all proposals to the program committee chair, Cathy Matson, at the Department of History, University of Delaware, 121 Munroe Hall, Newark, DE 19716. Proposals should include title, description of paper or panel, a brief CV, and full contact information. Questions may be directed to cmatson@udel.edu. Deadline for receipt of proposals is March 1, 2006; participants will be notified of the committee's decision by May 1, 2006.

THE LIBRARY COMPANY OF PHILADELPHIA and THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF PENNSYLVANIA Visiting Research
Fellowships in Colonial and U.S. History and Culture for 2006–2007

These two independent research libraries will jointly award approximately thirty one-month fellowships for research in residence in either or both collections during 2006–2007. The two institutions, adjacent to each other in Center City Philadelphia, have complementary collections capable of supporting research in a variety of fields and disciplines relating to the history of America and the Atlantic world from the 17th through the 19th centuries, as well as mid-Atlantic regional history to the present.

The Library Company's collections (500,000 volumes) represent the full range of American print culture from colonial times to the end of the 19th century. The Historical Society's archives (18 million items, now enriched by the holdings of the Balch Institute for Ethnic Studies) document the social, cultural, and economic history of a region central to the nation's development, with new strength in ethnic and immigrant history. Both collections are strong in African American and women's history, popular print culture, newspapers and printed ephemera, and images of the Philadelphia region. For information on the collections, visit www.hsp.org and www.librarycompany.org.

One-month fellowships carry a stipend of $1,800 and are tenable for any one-month period between June 2006 and May 2007. (Two Barra Foundation International Fellowships, each for $2,000 plus travel expenses, are reserved for foreign national scholars resident outside the U.S.) We invite inquiries about the appropriateness of proposed topics.

The deadline for receipt of one-month fellowship applications is March 1, 2006, with a decision to be made by April 15. To apply, submit 6 copies each of a resume, a 2–4 page description of the proposed research, and a letter of reference. Please send materials to James Green, Library Company, 1314 Locust Street, Philadelphia, PA 19107. Phone: 215-546-3181, email: jgreen@librarycompany.org.

H-Pennsylvania is an H-Net discussion network for scholars, teachers, archivists, librarians, and others interested in the history of Pennsylvania. H-Pennsylvania will foster exchanges of information and ideas by providing a forum for the discussion of current research, new works and historiography, teaching methods and strategies, and public history initiatives. Editors will also post relevant notices from the H-Net job guide, calls for papers, programs of symposia and conferences, announcements of conferences and public history events and exhibitions, information on new sources and finding aids, as well as course syllabi, reading lists, bibliographies, and other teaching materials.

To join H-Pennsylvania, please send a message from the account where you wish to receive mail, to listserv@h-net.msu.edu, with no signatures or styled text, word wrap off for long lines, and only this text:
sub h-Pennsylvania firstname lastname, institution
Example: sub H-Pennsylvania Leslie Jones, Penn State

Alternatively, you may go to <http://www.h-net.org/lists/subscribe.cgi> to perform the same function as noted above. Follow the instructions you receive by return mail. If you have questions or experience difficulties in attempting to subscribe, please send a message to help@mail.h-net.msu.edu

PMHB Online

THE HISTORICAL SOCIETY OF PENNSYLVANIA, in partnership with the History Cooperative and with the Pennsylvania State University, is bringing The Pennsylvania Magazine of History and Biography into the digital age!

Beginning in January 2006, current issues of PMBH will be published by the History Cooperative (<http://www.historycooperative.org>) simultaneous with the print publication. Later in 2006, back issues, from our first issue in 1877 through 2001, will become available through the Pennsylvania State University Libraries' (<http://www.libraries.psu.edu>) developing electronic database of Pennsylvania history sources. Publication of new issues of PMHB will be delayed for five years on the Penn State site, which will be freely available to all. Researchers will be able to search across all journals in the History Cooperative and the Penn State databases and access the full text of articles and reviews.

Authors are welcome to contact the editor (pmhb@hsp.org or 215-732-6200 x208) to learn more about this new venture. Authors who prefer not to have their articles made available online should contact the editor to make such an arrangement.
