

"Deeply researched and imaginatively argued....
Schocket asks fundamental questions about how and by whom power is wielded and about why certain choices were taken."
—Daniel K. Richter,
University of Pennsylvania

Founding Corporate Power in Early National Philadelphia

Andrew M. Schocket

Between 1780 and 1830, corporations sprang up to provide water, transportation, and financial institutions for the citizens of Philadelphia. Schocket argues that, although elite members of the upper class controlled these corporations, the enterprises generated widespread prosperity by offering services that allowed middle-class entrepreneurs to flourish. This mixed legacy resulted in the continuing ambivalence toward U.S. corporations today.

288 pp. $42.00

Northern Illinois University Press

DeKalb, IL 60115 815-753-1826 www.niupress.niu.edu

NEW FROM PITTSBURGH

Industrial Genius

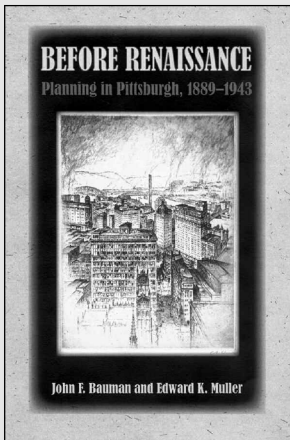

The Working Life of Charles Michael Schwab

by Kenneth Warren

"In his marvelous business biography of Charles Schwab, Warren demonstrates yet again his talents as a historian of industrial America. . . . beautifully written, superbly documented, and filled with insights."

— David Nasaw, author of Andrew Carnegie

$35.00 • Cloth • 304 pp. • 978-0-8229-4326-6

Before Renaissance

Planning in Pittsburgh, 1889-1943

by John F. Bauman
and Edward K. Muller

"Bauman and Muller secure Pittsburgh's place as a leading edge in the formation of professional planning. Sure to be influential in rethinking the formative history of urban and regional management, their work deserves a wide and attentive audience."

— Howard Gillette Jr.,
Rutgers University-Camden

$27.95 • Paper • 352 pp. • 978-0-8229-5930-4

$60.00 • Cloth • 978-0-8229-4287-0

800.621.2736

www.upress.pitt.edu

UNIVERSITY OF PITTSBURGH PRESS

Call for Papers
The Historical Society of Pennsylvania
Annual Symposium 2007

The Historical Society of Pennsylvania invites presentations for its 2007 Symposium to be held in fall 2007 exploring the legacies of William Penn's "Holy Experiment" for notions of community in history over the subsequent three centuries. Possible topics might include but are not limited to: processes of community formation, maintenance, and change; the creation of community across differences; changing neighborhoods; issues of tension or tolerance in diverse communities; intentional communities; or community dissolution and fragmentation. Additionally, papers might look at the role that histories—shared or otherwise—play in the life or creation of communities. Finally we invite presenters to problematize the idea of community itself as a lens of historical analysis.

Presenters are encouraged to interpret the theme broadly and may explore any historical period, with a geographic focus on Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, or the mid-Atlantic region (comparative work including this geographic focus will also be considered). Symposium participants will be encouraged to submit versions of their papers to the Pennsylvania Magazine of History and Biography for publication.

To submit, please send a 500–700 word abstract and brief CV/resume to Kathryn Wilson, Director of Education and Interpretation, The Historical Society of Pennsylvania, 1300 Locust Street, Philadelphia, PA 19107. Electronic submissions welcome at kwilson@hsp.org. Please respond by May 1, 2007. For more information, visit our Web site at www.hsp.org.

Join HSP and Invest in the Future

Help inaugurate the Penn Commonwealth Circle—PCwC

The Penn Commonwealth Circle recognizes those generous individuals who are leaving a future legacy to The Historical Society of Pennsylvania. By remembering HSP in your estate plan—through your will, a donation of retirement funds, a trust, or a unique planned giving strategy tailored to meet your needs and wishes, you will safeguard over two million irreplaceable treasures:

The earliest draft of the Constitution of the United States, July 1787
A copy of the Emancipation Proclamation signed by President Lincoln
A first-hand account from a survivor of the Johnstown Flood and countless other thought-provoking memories . . .

Ways to Give

Simply make a bequest in your will by designating a gift of property, life insurance, or appreciated stocks and securities, or cash. This year, you can transfer funds from your pension or retirement fund (IRA) to HSP; it can give you an advantageous tax savings.

You can also work with your attorney to tailor a trust that will fund the HSP programs in which you most want to invest. Trusts are an excellent way of transferring appreciated assets to both your family and to HSP. Trusts can reduce or possibly eliminate estate or gift tax with the eventual transfer of your assets to a loved one.

Everyone Benefits

All of these gifts can personally benefit you and your family, reduce your estate tax, and help ensure that our treasured collections—the stories, diaries, and manuscripts—are cared for and understood for generations to come.

Please Call on Us

For more information or confidential help in planning your gift to support the future of HSP, please contact: Office of Planned Giving, The Historical Society of Pennsylvania, 1300 Locust Street, Philadelphia, PA 19107 or telephone Kim Sajet at 215-732-6200 x233 or e-mail scollins@hsp.org.

By informing us of your bequest, you will be invited to join the Penn Commonwealth Circle. To thank members, we will send a semiannual PCwC newsletter, Horizons, offering advice on the newest tax and estate planning strategies. We also extend lifetime benefits to members, including PCwC listing in our Annual Report; PCwC listings in our publications; special tours of HSP's collections; and invitations to exciting donor events.

We would prefer to say to you now: "Thank You So Much!" rather than convey our gratitude to an executor. Please share your plans with us so we can fulfill your wishes and thank you personally.