

FUNDING PRIORITIES FOR ENGINEERING EDUCATION

Moderator: Guido Schlesinger, Ph.D.
Education Program Manager
AT&T Foundation

Guido Schlesinger has recently joined the public policy team of AT&T's Public Relations Division. For eight years he was Program Manager at the AT&T Foundation, where he directed and coordinated AT&T's philanthropic programs for higher education. Born in Rumania, Guido emigrated to New York as a teenager. He received his undergraduate degree (magna cum laude) from Brooklyn College and his graduate degrees from Rutgers University. After teaching at Rutgers for five years, Guido joined the Western Electric Fund as Education Program Officer. Since then, Guido has held a number of positions at AT&T in public relations, including editor of AT&T Management Focus, an employee publication, Senior Professional, Advertising, and Public Affairs Manager of AT&T Technologies.

Guido is married to Kathie Schlesinger, Assistant Attending Pathologist and Assistant Professor of Pathology at Albert Einstein Medical College. They have three children, Robyn, Naomi, and Aaron, and live in Brooklyn, New York, the fourth largest city in the world.

Presenters: Kathleen Buechel
Vice President
Alcoa Foundation

Lola E. Rogers
Program Director
Women's Programs
National Science Foundation

Richard E. Stephens, Ph.D.
Director, Office of University & Science Education
Department of Energy

