

THE ACADEMIC CULTURE: VIEWS FROM FEMALE FACULTY

Moderator: Mary R. Anderson, Ph.D.
Associate Dean of Student & Business Affairs
College of Engineering and Applied Sciences
Arizona State University

Mary R. Anderson is the Associate Dean of Student and Business Affairs in the College of Engineering and the Applied Sciences at Arizona State University. She is responsible for budget, space, lab services, a Women in Engineering Program, a Minority Engineering Program, recruitment and student organizations. She earned her Ph.D. from the University of Iowa.

She is the director of a successful Graduate Career Change Program in IE. Mary is a frequent speaker on the myths of mathematics and engineering and on the career opportunities for women in engineering. Research and teaching interests are in the fields of SPC and the design of experiments. She is also a statistical consultant. Mary is a member of ASEE, IIE, ASQC, WEPAN, SWE and GASAT.

Presenters: Karen Frair, Ph.D.
Vice Dean of Engineering
University of Alabama

Claire R. Lobert
Research Associate, Department of Social & Decision Sciences
Carnegie Mellon University

Janice Trautner, Ph.D.
Assistant Professor of Civil Engineering
University of Utah

Karen Chou, Ph.D.
Associate Professor of Civil Engineering
University of Tennessee at Knoxville

