

PLENARY SESSION"Exploring Gender Bias Through Interactive Theater"

Facilitator: Martha Dewey
Director
Cornell Interactive Theater Ensemble (CITE)
Cornell University

Actors: Max Fury
Assistant Director
CITE
Cornell University

Lisha McKoy
Actor/Teaching Associate
Cornell University

The Cornell Interactive Theater Ensemble (CITE) is a powerful and effective tool for organizations wishing to explore issues of race, gender, age, class, disability, and sexual harassment. During the CITE presentation, professional actors dramatize problematic encounters that occur in today's workplace. After each scenario, the actors remain in character to interact with the audience and facilitate discussion from multiple points of view. CITE clients include universities, professional organizations and Fortune 500 corporations.

The Cornell Interactive Theater at work!

