

RESEARCH AND EVALUATION: KEYS TO SUCCESS

MODERATOR

As founder of JB Consulting in 1992, Dr. Jan Brown has consulted and lectured throughout the United States, Canada, and Japan on business considerations for technology commercialization, technology management in research and development organizations, and issues concerning women in science and engineering. She has worked with industry, government, and universities including: Nihon University, Tokyo, Japan, US National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, US Department of Energy: Technology Transfer Advisor to the Secretary of DOE, Motorola, Inc., US Army, The University of Texas at Austin, and Monsanto, Inc.

Prior to consulting, Dr. Brown spent 14 years as a research physicist and manager of science and engineering development in industrial laboratories (Schlumberger-Doll Research and Fisher Controls) where she conducted materials and sensors research, managed strategic relationships, and innovated technology management approaches.

Dr. Brown received the degrees of B.A. (1972), M.A. (1974), and Ph.D. (1978) in Physics from Washington University in St. Louis and a Master's in Business Administration from the University of Texas at Austin (1990).
