

Selected Bibliography of African-Americans in Western Pennsylvania

by Ancella Livers

Editor's Note: This bibliography is part of a larger bibliographical project (with Matthew Hawkins) on African-Americans in Western Pennsylvania. The larger project is cosponsored by the Center for Economic Development of the H. John Heinz III School of Public Policy and Management and the Department of History at Carnegie Mellon University. Much like that more comprehensive bibliography, this bibliography aims to supplement existing bibliographies on the African-American experience in Western Pennsylvania. It augments the usual citation of scholarly books and essays by making extensive reference to old and new M.A. and Ph.D. dissertations as well as contemporary social surveys and special studies on the subject.
