A Great Day for Hockey

Now open!

Skate through the history of hockey in Western Pennsylvania from its start here in 1895 to the five-time Stanley Cup champion Pittsburgh Penguins. Thanks to the generosity of the Kassling family.

Bronze maquette of Le Magnifique, the sculpture that stands outside of PPG Paints Arena and honors hockey legend Mario Lemieux.

Spring 2019 — Ongoing Exhibits

The Vietnam War: 1945–1975 Through September 22, 2019

This traveling exhibition developed in partnership with the New-York Historical Society examines the causes, progression, and consequences of one of the most controversial events of the 20th century. A compelling range of artifacts and interactive digital media to convey the story, including the contributions made by Western Pennsylvanians.
