

COMING SOON... TO THE HISTORY CENTER

Anne Madaras
Chief Curator, Museum Division

Since opening in 1996, the History Center has hosted exhibits produced by community organizations and corporations as varied as the Pittsburgh Zoo, West Penn Hospital, the Byzantine Catholic Church, and Matthews International. The History Center has become the space for these groups to share their stories with the public. Another such effort, "Led by the Spirit: 125 Years of Excellence at Duquesne University," will premier in the History Center's Fourth Floor Campbell Gallery on October 1.

Using photographs from the university's archives, the exhibit will explore the history of Duquesne and its contributions to the cultural, civic, and educational life of the region. The exhibit coincides with the anniversary of the founding of the school; with just 40 students and seven faculty, the Pittsburgh Catholic College of the Holy Ghost opened in October 1878. Originally located on Wylie Avenue in the city's Uptown neighborhood, the school now occupies a 40-acre campus on the "Bluff" above the Mon River. This exhibit, like other community exhibits in the past, provides History Center visitors with a special opportunity to focus on the history of the organizations, institutions, and corporations that form the fabric of the region.

At the end of the day, it's all about experience.

And after that, it's all about sharing it.

You spend a lifetime amassing what matters. Knowledge. Values. And yes, wealth. Which is why we offer such a different approach to managing wealth, from private banking to asset management. One that's based on discipline and experience. To not only help you set goals, but constantly track against them. Not just create a strategy, but actually follow through on it. Because the only thing more important than the results you see today is what you do with them tomorrow.
